

IAS launches M&A division

The Independent Agency Search & Selection company (IAS) has officially launched its new mergers and acquisition consulting division (IAS M&A). The role of the IAS is to set up suitable introductions, consider the best type of transaction, and to negotiate the initial phases with interested parties.

Financial and legal details are the role of the various parties' own service providers, while IAS navigates the process with the agencies concerned.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>