

Rocking the Daisies 2017 is sold out

Rocking the Daisies 2017 is officially sold out. This is the fastest the festival has sold out in its 12-year history. Festival fans bought their tickets from as early as December 2016.

The festival has opened a ticket waiting list, where fans can join the queue for the opportunity to purchase a ticket that someone has decided to cancel. If any tickets are released only those on the waiting list will be able to purchase them. The waiting list does not guarantee any tickets and they will still be sold on a first-come, first-serve basis. Join the waiting list here. Rocking the Daisies reserves the right to limit the number of tickets that each person on the waiting list can buy.
