

L&G Tools appointed South African distributor for AEG Powertools

L&G Tools, one of South Africa's leading suppliers of hand tools, do-it-yourself (DIY) garden equipment and machinery - has been appointed the South African distributor for AEG Powertools. This agreement will see the AEG Powertools brand relaunched into the local market from July this year.

L&G Tools is a family business that was established 38 years ago. Products include compressors, welding machines, power generation, power garden tools and bathroom accessories. These are sold via both large retail chains and independent retailers.
