Ovens can easily accumulate grime from products that don't do the job properly. In fact, if the wrong product is used to clean ovens, it can lead to unpleasant burning odours. As much as cleaning your oven is important, many products require you to hold your breath or cover your mouth - as you try to keep those toxic odorous fumes away.

Introducing Dr. Beckmann's Odourless, Active Gel Oven Cleaner, a new product that makes oven cleaning a whole lot easier and fume free! It has no offensive smell and is safe to use. The active gel clings to vertical surfaces such as oven walls and doors to cut through tough baked-on food, grease and grime to leave your oven sparkling clean.

"We are so excited to be bringing this new product into market, which comes off the back of the launch and continued success of the Dr. Beckmann products. The brand is dedicated to caring about and solving the most difficult problems associated with laundry and household cleaning and our oven cleaner is no different," says Dana Leibovitz, Marketing Manager at ACDOCO.

This product can also be used for cooker tops, baking trays, pots, grills and braais. Keeping your cooking areas clean and ready to prepare divine meals for you and your loved ones.

The Dr. Beckmann Active Gel Oven Cleaner is available in South Africa from selected Spars, PnP and Checkers stores nationwide.

How the Active Gel Oven Cleaner works:

- Squirt the Active Oven Cleaner Gel all over your oven's interior and even on the glass front and leave for 30-60 mins (or overnight for a deep clean). Then wipe away with hot water and a cloth.
- The active gel clings to vertical surfaces such as oven walls and doors to cut through tough baked-on food, grease and grime to leave your oven sparkling clean.
- Your oven will be shining, clean and fresh in no time at all. No need to call for oven cleaning services!
