DStv partnered with music app Joox to offer a new package. The Joox VIP family package is freely available to DStv subscribers as well as up to five family members.

“Unparalleled on-demand entertainment for all the family in the palm of your hand. The new Joox VIP family package is exclusively available to DStv customers,” says Thabiet Allie, chief commercial officer at Tencent Africa.

Joox has millions of local and international songs and offers users unique features, such as karaoke and in-app competitions and rewards along with exclusive artist content, playlists, and the charts.

To activate your Joox subscription, download the app from an app store, tap on the DStv banner in the main menu or your profile image, select Joox VIP and then DStv customers. Enter your South African ID number as the DStv account holder, enter the one-time pin sent to your registered cellphone number and you're good to go.
