

Next Generation: Annual Report Foresight

Next Generation Consultants makes some exciting predictions about what could be shaking up the social investment and development industry sectors in the year ahead, taking a closer look at the future of social enterprises, new investment portfolios, new development and evaluation practices and the impact of technology on the social investment world.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>