

All you need to know about honeymooning in Kruger National Park

By Adelle Bell

2 Oct 2020

If you're seeking a romantic getaway like no other, look no further than a Kruger National Park honeymoon.

Here you will enjoy opulence to the finest detail, secluded suites with sensational views, private candlelit meals and personal, attentive service, private pools, outdoor rose baths and exquisite cuisine set the scene for the most romantic honeymoon and, of course, the most exceptional big five game viewing.

Setting out on life's greatest journey together is an exciting moment, and there is no better way to start out than in the African wilderness.

Below you will find some tips and advice about Honeymooning in the Kruger National Park.

What requirements are needed to enter South Africa?

- A valid and acceptable passport. Your passport should be valid for at least 30 days beyond your intended date of exit from South Africa. However, some immigration officials still request that a passport would have at least six months validity on the date of entry to South Africa. To avoid problems at the airport on arrival, you are advised to ensure your passport meets these requirements.
- At least one blank page in your passport for endorsements.
- A valid visa, if required.
- Sufficient funds to pay for your day-to-day expenses during your stay. The currency used in South Africa is ZAR also known as the rand. Debit or credit cards are also welcome, but it is absolutely advisable to bring some rand with you for any gratuities, cash purchases, etc.
- A return or onward ticket.

What about malaria prophylactics - are these to be taken when visiting the Kruger National Park?

Even though the risk of malaria is usually low, I always advise my clients to be on the safe side and rather take malaria prophylactics.

The choice of the appropriate drug that an individual should use is a decision that should be made in consultation with your medical practitioner or travel clinic.

Entry Airports in South Africa and how do you get from these airports to the Kruger

There are a few ways of getting to Kruger. Most trips usually start or end in Johannesburg or Cape Town.

- Flying to Kruger Airports from Johannesburg or Cape Town

Flights operate daily from Johannesburg and Cape Town to Hoedspruit Airport, Kruger Mpumalanga International Airport (MQP) and Skukuza Airport. These are the main airports used to get clients to the Kruger lodges.

On arrival at the above airports, clients are met and transferred by road to their lodge. This transfer can be between one, two or three hours each way.

- Flying directly to your Safari Lodge Airstrip (scheduled chartered flight)

Flights operate daily from Johannesburg. This is the easiest and most convenient way to travel to the park. Flying time is approximately 90 minutes. You land at the lodge airstrip. A representative or ranger from your lodge will meet you at the airstrip and transfer you in a game drive vehicle directly to your lodge.

Best of all, your trusted travel consultant will include all these flights into your itinerary - so no need for you to worry about flights and transfers!

Honeymoon specials

As a honeymooner, you are eligible for exclusive offers no other traveller gets. Take advantage of these special offers, which could be:

- Free night offers
- Bride pays 50%
- Free upgrades

Your honeymoon can be tailored to your budget with the help of a trusted travel consultant. There are so many choices of accommodation to choose from such as luxury suites set in very private locations, there is something for everyone

Why not end your safari honeymoon off with a beach holiday or a few nights at the Victoria Falls.

By following these tips and getting professional advice, all you would need to do say “I do” and pack your bags and head on over to Africa for the ultimate Kruger Honeymoon.

An unforgettable romantic Kruger Park Safari for honeymooners is all you need to cure your wanderlust and to spend some time with your loved one.