Iconic fashion designer Thierry Mugler dies

Celebrated French couturier and designer Thierry Mugler died at aged 73 on Sunday, 23 January of natural causes.

Source: Dominique Issermann via Manfred Thierry Mugler's Instagram account

"It is with deep sadness that the House of Mugler announces the passing of Mr Manfred Thierry Mugler. A visionary whose imagination as a couturier, perfumer and image-maker empowered people around the world to be bolder and dream bigger every day," Mugler's team announced on social media.

View this post on Instagram

ather of 80s power dressing", he was best known for structured silhouettes featuring statement shoulders and cinched waists.

He was equally known for his highly stylised, often 'other-wordly' themed runway shows.

During his career, Mugler designed signature looks for Grace Jones, David Bowie, Diana Ross, Beyonce, Lady Gaga and Kim Kardashian.

s and costume design. His perfume Angel has become one of the best-selling perfumes of the 20th century.

In 2019, the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts (MMFA) launched the 'Thierry Mugler: Couturissime' exhibition dedicated to the designer and his work.

For more, visit: https://www.bizcommunity.com